If you happen to be at a track day event, recognize a BMW 1M Coupe from the distance and initiate pursuit in order to pass, you'd better not rely on the stock technical specifications for your calculations. Yes, there's a big chance that you'll encounter a modified 1M Coupe, as more and more tuners are offering aftermarket developments for the entry-level M vehicle.

This time, the package we are going to talk about comes from APP Europe, which offers pretty serious tech mods for the car.[...]
