Guided by a philosophy that seeks to combine mechanical perfection and exterior beauty, the specialists at Kahn Design decided to take the Mercedes ML350 to another dimension. While the name only - ML350 Bluetech powered by Brabus - speaks for the performance upgrades, we must add that a visual enhancement has also been performed, one which extends inside out.

Exterior changes include a carbon-finished front grille, fog lamp bezels made of carbon fiber, tinted front indicator lenses, underflo... [...]
