

2012 Mercedes SLK Gets the Brabus Makeover

06/09/2011 14:05 by admin

We don't know about you, but replacing the silly F1 front end with the wider grille and more mature headlights is the best thing that has ever happened to the SLK from a cosmetic point of view. Despite this, the 2012 convertible is more about refinement, economy and LEDs, not like the first generation that used to be about technology, lightness and fun, so a bit of aftermarket wizardry is in order.

Brabus has released their new Sport program for the new Mercedes-Benz SLK R172. The package inc... [...]

Source: autoevolution