

Galpin Wide-body Mustang Hits the Auction Block

06/09/2011 15:05 by admin

Nothing shows you care like building an awesome ride with monumental performance and more horses than two Marlboro and aftershave commercial combined (see how we introduced masculinity into the picture?).

That's why Galpin Auto Sports, with a bit of help from SPX Corporation, will be building a 700-horsepower, wide-body Mustang to be auctioned at Barrett-Jackson's Scottsdale event in January. The money will go to a really good cause - St. Jude Children's Hospital - and Barrett-Jackson plans ... [...]

Source: autoevolution