

First 2012 Brabus Rocket 800 Picture Hit the Web

12/09/2011 15:08 by admin

At the beginning of the month, we brought you the first rendering and we were impressed, but the real 2012 Brabus Rocket 800 that was revealed today on the German Company's website is something even more special than we originally thought - it's a god among cars!

Motorvision.de says that word on the street is the car has an 800 horsepower punch and a whopping 1,420Nm. This is delivered to the road via a AMG Speedshift MCT seven-speed sports transmission.

The 0 to 100 km/h sprint takes only ...[...]

Source: autoevolution