Tuning projects for German cars are coming in hard and fast today, and the latest is for the S5 Sportback, the one before the facelift to be more precise. These guys know a thing or two about making subtle changes to a fast Audi, and they've played with this car before.

The new modification pack brings the car's supercharged 3.0 liter engine from its factory stock power of 333 hp to a level of 445 HP (327 kW) and 530 Nm. That's in RS5 territory boys! The power and torque premium has been ach... [...]
