

Project Kahn Present Swiss Edition for the Police

16/09/2011 10:57 by admin

This is not a piece of news but of advice: in case you're planning any activity that involves running away from the police, forget it! Why? Because you might end up trying to outrun a Range Rover Sport with a 5.0-liter supercharged V8 that's been tuned by Project Kahn.

The British aftermarket developer has prepared a complete list of modifications, covering every area of the SUV. Dubbed Swiss Edition, the project can be distinguished by its black and white hood and 22-inch RS lightweight alloy... [...]

Source: autoevolution