The Mercedes SLS AMG is a stunning supercar that manages to take its driver and passenger in a world of extreme dynamic sensations. However, they are German vehicle that comes with temper control, thus making you lust for more passion.

The only solution is to go straight to the aftermarket world, and after viewing this vide there is little doubt in our minds that FAB Design is the place to go. A pair of such cars was recently spotted in London by Youtube user F14BigAl.

We don't know if it'... [...]
