Earlier today, we showed you how ADV.1 Wheels is celebrating two years of shoeing exclusive supercars and go-fast rides with a special photo gallery, but it seems that the company has an even greater birthday cake in the works.

Advance One Wheels will use its rims on one of the most cherished supercars in the world, the Ferrari Enzo, as Luxury4Play reports.

The guys over at ADV.1 Wheels just happened to have an Enzo around their shop, so they decided to take a torque wrench, play with the... [...]
