

Kubatech Mercedes SLS AMG Gets ECU Remap

22/09/2011 12:00 by admin

The Mercedes SLS AMG is quite a beast, being able to give you top thrills, but this doesn't stop certain people from wanting even more power for the German supercar. In case you happen to share the flaw of being greedy with us and would like to see the SLS assault the road with even more muscle, you can now turn to Kubatech.

The company, which works together with mcchip-dkr is offering an ECU remap for the vehicle, which brings a hefty 54 hp and 30 Nm (22 lb-ft) output increase, with the 6.2-... [...]
