The 2012 Toyota Camry is here, but we can't help notice that the best selling car in the US is a bit... boring. However, just when we were about to write a bigger piece of automotive journalism about that, we came across this video which proves the opposite.

Ladies and Gentlemen, you are looking at an old Toyota Camry. How old? Well ,according to the video, over 200,000 miles old. So, what's so fun about this ride?

Well, it could very well replace the term sleeper in the urban dictionary. ... [...]
