It's been a long time since we head anything cool or exciting being done with either the Nissan 370Z or its brother, the Infiniti G37. We're especially fond of Z cars, as they offer a pure driving feel and most of the luxury of German competitors.

If you've ever thought these cars look good but are down on power, than Nissan tuning specialist Stillen has the answer you need: a supercharging kit that bolt onto your 3.7-liter engine, turning it into a 500 horsepower monster.

The tuner says [...]
