

Kahn Ford Focus RS Rides on Cosworth Wheels

28/09/2011 15:34 by admin

In between taking a ride through London in a their Veyron and answering phone calls about selling Jameson Button's Ford GT, the guys at Project Kahn have also took the time to play with the Ford Focus RS (they did warn us that they were working on a project with the Blue Oval badge).

The new Focus is already out, there's even a new ST version, but they really couldn't be bothered. And we can really see why, since we're talking about a 300 hp Focus.

The Brits fitted the hot CUT mad hatch [...]
