

Paris got a Bentley!

04/01/2009 12:46 by Car Tuning and Modified Cars News

Paris screwed up again, this time when she just dropped $200.000 on a Christmas present for herself: a custom build Bentley Continental GT. For now, sounds ok, ain't it? (...)

Paris screwed up again, this time when she just dropped $200.000 on a Christmas present for herself: a custom build Bentley Continental GT. For now, sounds ok, ain't it? Here comes the big boom: the whole car is finished in pink - the sheetmetal, grille, wheels and most of the interior too. The "wondercar" was built by West Coast Customs, who are quite famous for being able to do endless modifications on almost every car that comes through their shop. When asked, Paris said "I've just always wanted a pink car. I think when you're a little girl and you have the Barbie Corvette you're always like, "Oh, I wish I had a car like this one day," so I think it just comes from being a fan of Barbie for so long."

Source: Car Tuning and Modified Cars News