

Project Kahn Teases Updated 2012 Vesuvius Edition

30/09/2011 17:59 by admin

Project Kahn is a British tuner that has turned modifying Range Rovers into an obsession and now the company is preparing to give us its latest development of this kind: a series of updates for the 2012 Vesuvius project.

The aftermarket developer has released this teaser image, showing one of its photographers playing with the car in a studio. Of course, the mountain lava orange shade, combined with the black hue of mountain lava rocks are still here, but we will get fresh elements that shoul... [...]
