

Hennessey Performance Celebrates 20th Anniversary with Open House

02/10/2011 20:19 by admin

Tuning cars is more than just using computers and wrenches - it's making people's dreams come true. This is exactly what Hennessey Performance Engineering is doing. The US tuning company is now celebrating 20 years of taking cars to the gym.

The company has held an open house this weekend, allowing enthusiasts to enjoy the goodies in its shop. As you can see in the adjacent image, visitors could enjoy a wide variety of American metal, as well as a tuned Godzilla (how could the GT-R have misse...[...]

Source: autoevolution