Painting your car gold is getting old. Having it chromed is cool, but you run the risk of blinding people on sunny days. There's now way of teasing it so we'll come out with the whole info an be done with it: we've stumbled upon a really cool new finish that we think will be a big hit in the aftermarket world.

The Hamann BMW F10 5-Series was caught on film by JustinsSupercars in Dubai, and we are really impressed with the full brushed aluminum look they gave it. It's a wrap job, not paint, [...]
