

Eibach Audi A1 Launched

06/10/2011 11:57 by admin

The Audi A1 has slowly, but steadily, become one of the tuning world's favorite toys and now it is time to reveal a new aftermarket project based on the car. The suspension specialist Eibach has played with the smaller vehicle in Audi's range, with the result being a balanced modification project that focuses on the tech side of the car.

Eibach joined forces with Bilstein, which has offered new struts - the B12 Pro-Kit, which brings the car closer to the road by 40 mm, while the dampers allow...[...]

Source: autoevolution