Some people will do just about everything to make the cars they drive their own. Let's take the Porsche Panamera owner of the vehicle in the adjacent image. He was already driving a Porsche Panamera Turbo S, a 550 hp monster sedan, which has also received the Stingray GTR wide bodykit, riding on ADV.1 wheels.

However, the owner decided to also have the interior customized, with the result being seen in the adjacent images, which were posted on luxury4play. This was no ordinary leather & some ... [...]
