

Romeo Ferraris Abarth 500 Race Car Replica Coming

06/10/2011 15:59 by admin

When we drove the Abarth 500, we came back to the office with a huge go-fast-induced smile on our faces, with the 140 hp being enough to raise our bpms to sky-high levels. Well then, how about an Abarth 500 with 300 hp?

Italian aftermarket developer Romeo Ferraris, a company that is no stranger to Abarth 500 tuning, announced that it will give us a street-legal replica of the Abarth 500 race car you see in the adjacent image.

We don't know if that Carmageddon-inspired rear wing will make it... [..]
