

Hyundai Veloster by PM Lifestyle Heading to SEMA

07/10/2011 11:12 by admin

The Hyundai Veloster is set to be a crowd pleaser at the upcoming SEMA. We've recently showed you ARK Performance's Veloster Turbo and now its time for a new project based on the same car, this time coming from PM Lifestyle, the company that publishes Wrecked Magazine.

The project is being put together with the help of the students at Universal Technical Institute, as the company wants to use an approach that is accessible to real-world garages.

OK, so we wont 2012 hp, but what exactly are ... [...]
