

Twin-Turbo Audi R8 Rides on HRE Wheels

07/10/2011 13:15 by admin

Automotive producers had been waiting for Audi to release a supercar for many, many years and the arrival of the R8 was like a blessing. When the V10 version came to the world, the party really started.

However, there are many who also want to attend the after-party and tuning companies are more than happy to help. Let's take the R8 from the adjacent image, for example. Take a look at it from the distance and you won't notice anything different, except the multi-spoke, satin-finished HRE P43S... [...]
