As we previously reported, Alpina and Akrapovic have established a partnership that is seeing the German tuner's creation speak to us through the Slovenian exhaust specialist's voice(s).

The first fruit of this collaboration is the Alpina B6 Bi-Turbo, a coupe that was released at the Frankfurt Auto Show and uses a titanium Akrapovic exhaust system. We'll remind you that we are talking about 4.4 liters of V8 engine that deliver 500 hp and 700 Nm, allowing the car to fly past the 62 mph (100 km... [...])
