Mercedes is not too far away from giving us a new generation of the SL, but this doesn't mean that the current one is out of the spotlights. Want an example? Here it is: Japanese tuner Wald International is offering a visual package for the vehicle, bringing its usual over-the-top approach.

The vehicle, now called Wald R230 SL-Class Sports Line Black Bison Edition, comes with an aerodynamic package consisting of a front fascia, new front fenders, wheel arc extensions, an extreme rear bumper, ...[...]
