

Chevrolet Sonic and Cruze SEMA Offensive Coming

25/10/2011 01:26 by admin

When you hear the names "Chevrolet" and "SEMA", a V8 engine is the first thing that comes to mind. That is correct, but less than 50 percent.

What do we mean by that? Well, at this year's SEMA, 60 percent of the Chevy models will be tuned incarnations of the Sonic and Cruze.

GM is planning a true small car feast, and it will display no less than 20 Sonics, all being fitted with the turbocharged 1.4-liter engine, using Brembo braking systems and new suspension kits, as [...]

Source: autoevolution