Earlier today, we gave you a taste of a perfect toy for big boys, in the form of the that's coming to SEMA. Now, it's time to talk about about another trio of Ford trucks that will greet us at the event.

We'll start with the Ford F-350 Super Duty by Hulst Customs, a clean-style project, which seems to borrow elements from the British car culture (let's hope that it doesn't end up copying Rolls-Royce or Bentley) and using goodies such as a custom hood, grille, fenders and front fascia, as wel...
