

Project Kahn Vesuvius Update Introduced

25/10/2011 23:33 by admin

Project Kahn is introducing a series of updates for its Vesuvius range, which includes multiple developments based on the Range Rover Sport.

Customers can now get the new package, which includes a metallic black finish with a wide central stripe that can be specified in the desired colors (some of the shades can be seen in the adjacent images) and Kahn RS lightweight alloy rims that come in a 22-inch size.

In addition to that, the British tuner installs a quad exhaust system with tips that...[...]
