One of the many factory-built customization projects that are bound to tun more than a few heads at this year's SEMA Show in Las Vegas is this Ram 392 Quick Silver concept.

We only have a sketch to go by for now, but the mighty monster pack not the stock 390 hp 5.7-liter V8, but the full 6.4-liter HEMI with no less than 470 ponies to push the pickup into wide slides and burn some rubber.

In order to make sure it's going to stop on a dime, the SEMA-bound concept has also been fitted with [...]
