

2013 Lexus GS F-Sport by Five Axis Unveiled

27/10/2011 12:49 by admin

The coolest and most exiting project wearing a Lexus badge at the SEMA show comes in the form of the 2013 Lexus GS F-Sport that's been targeted by Five Axis. This is a brand new car that has only recently been revealed, a sort of toughened up version of the premium saloon that was revealed earlier this year.

However, Five Axis has added even more air scoops, bulges and aero bits, with the end result being much cooler and more aggressive than any sports saloon on the market right now. If this... [...]

Source: autoevolution