As you can imagine, aftermarket wheel producers have the occasion to meet special cars everyday, so if you're willing to see an impressive ride, just ask such a developer.

Here is an answer coming from US tuning wheels specialist D2Forged: a 1,600 hp Chevrolet Corvette! (we must thank luxury4play for the post).

The vehicle was tweaked by LateModel Racecraft, has received a twin0turbo Warhawk motor and was fitted wit a Z06 wideboy kit.

Since we are talking about a wheel producer, we must...
