

Project Kahn and Lorinser Make an S Class

14/01/2009 09:17 by Tuning - AutoEvolution

Two famous tuners, one German and the other British, united their forces to conceive what we can describe as a very mean Mercedes S-class.

The two culprits are Project Kahn and Lorinser and the end result is stunning, because you might just frighten yourself if, by chance, you happen to see the beast roaming the streets.

What Kahn did was to take a set of wheels, RSL 9 X 21 matte black at the front and 10.5 X 21 at the rear, and then redesigned the interior with be...
