

2011 SEMA Auto Show: The Sports Cars

01/11/2011 01:47 by admin

With the exception of the Ford Mustang and the Chevrolet Camaro, sports cars - modified ones, at that - are considered the life blood of the SEMA Auto Show. Pick-ups and SUVs are slowly gaining ground, but when it comes to sheer level of interest, sports cars are right up there with the two American muscle cars. This year, the SEMA Auto Show will be presenting plenty of mouth-watering examples of how sports coupes can be modded into pieces of automotive heaven. In this list, you'll find a lot of variety. American sports cars. Japanese sports cars. Korean sports cars. And there's even one from the Philippines, believe it or not.[...]
