

This 370Z Upgrade Sounds Fishy

14/01/2009 09:17 by Tuning - AutoEvolution

Nissan decided to make some in-house tuning with their newly released 370Z, so they turned to Nismo to give it a sportier look.

There are two different goodies to be offered, one is the S-Tune Aero package which makes the car look like a fish, and the other is the S-Tune Performance line that makes the Nissan go faster.

The first aerodynamic pack consists of a newly designed front and rear bumper spoilers, side skirts and a trunk wing. All these look-at me gadgets m...

Source: Tuning - AutoEvolution