Have you heard of a great review for the Mazda3 MPS (or the Mazdaspeed3 as some folks call it)? We haven't either, as the idea behind it is sort of dated, but that doesn't mean the 2.3-liter MZR Direct Injection Spark Ignition (DISI) turbo engine hasn't got some life to give in some other project.

Introducing the Mazda2 Turbo Concept that has been unveiled at the 2011 SEMA Show in Las Vegas. Yes, you've guessed it, it's got the same 263 hp straight-four as its big brother and a racing chassis... [...]
