

Toyota Prius Gets Tuned

14/01/2009 09:17 by Tuning - AutoEvolution

Good news for all the tree huggers out there because some dudes at AutoLabo that watched Star Wars for too long made an Imperial Trooper version of the Toyota Prius.

The Prius now looks like a squashed bug, ready to take 5 troopers into the next millennium while being green. The kit includes a front bumper, a new set of side sills, a new set of wheel covers for better aerodynamics, a carbon fiber rear roof spoiler, a redesigned rear bumper with integrated air diffuser and a new ex...
