A few months ago the German tuner has unveiled the 458 Italia Black Carbon Edition. But as white is the new black, today the tuner has unveiled a new Carbon Edition package this time painted in a very cool white. For the new 458 Italia Carbon Edition the tuner is offering a pretty cool aero package that includes: sporty front lip spoiler, front bumper flaps, wider side skirts, a modest rear lip spoiler, engine air outlets, window air intake grille and front bumper ventilation grid. And as we are talking about a Carbon Fiber edition, the car's roof, the hood, the mirrors and the door handles, the trunk lid with the diffuser and the tail light trims were manually coated with carbon fiber. The car sits on a new set of 21" wheels with the drop-center obviously carbon-coated in body color.[...]
