The ARK Performance Veloster, a turbocharged monster that ready to take only rally, was revealed at the 2011 SEMA Show in Las Vegas, and we have to say this is one impressive project, one of the best we've seen debut at the venue.

The car you see is powered by the 1.6-liter GDI engine of the stock car that's been boosted to 201 hp using a twin-scroll installation.

It features Bright Green livery on top of the flat gray paint scheme and is as wild as they come. This is ARK's way to show all... [...]
