

2011 SEMA: Accord Coupe V6 HFP With 335 HP

02/11/2011 19:10 by admin

Honda brought over a whole bunch of Civics to wash away the humiliation of what its reviews are saying, but the 2011 SEMA Show also saw the arrival of a whole bunch of performance parts for the Accord Coupe.

Under the HFP (Honda Factory Performance) name, the automaker brought over a conceptual Accord Coupe V6, packing a supercharger and performance air intake and exhaust system for the 3.5-liter unit.

The V6 engine now packs 335 hp and 285 lb-ft, an increase of 64 hp and 35 lb-ft over the... [...]

Source: autoevolution