Dodge is working to give us the third generation of the Viper, but we still get chills down our spines when thinking about the first Viper. Thus, here we are, giving you a vide that shows what a tuned incarnation of the American supercar.

Youtube user Jorrik got up close and personal with a Dodge Viper GTS Heffner 650 and wanted to share the sound of the 650 horses fighting to escape the exhaust system.

We're usually inviting you to turn the volume up, but, for the sake of your speakers, i... [...]
