Last time we checked, the Ferrari 458 Italia didn't need any presentation. Or maybe it did, but not for the reasons one would think of. Even though it's hard to believe that anybody, and we do mean anybody- from little girls to your dog- wouldn't recognize it as a Ferrari, in the even someone actually didn't, it means that he'd probably mistaken it for and UFO.

What does this mean? That if you drive one of these, you're covered. You really don't need any visual enhancements. End of story... [...]
