

Porsche 997 gets Retro Styling Kit from Bo Zolland

10/11/2011 02:54 by admin

For many Porsche fans the real 911 remains the model launched back in the 1960s and everything else launched after its just an evolution of that car. But their heart remained to the classic model. So the fact that many tuners is offering them the possibility to customize their 997 to look like a 1960 911 should not surprise you. For example, Bo Zolland in cooperation with Custom Concepts from The Netherlands have created a retro styling kit that allows any Porsche 997 owner to get back in time and to have a car that looks closer to the original 911 of the 1960s.[...]

Source: topspeed