

REIL Performance's Mildly Tuned Porsche 911 GT3

12/11/2011 00:08 by admin

The Porsche 911 GT3 is one of those performance cars that are probably better left in stock form, but as we all know, the German tuning industry knows no boundaries. On the bright side, REIL Performance, which is a subsidiary of MR Car Design, didn't go overboard with its tuning package for the 997 GT3.[...]

Source: Carscoop