While Porsche is using the LA Auto Show to give us the new GTS version of the Panamera, Hamann also has something to say about the German four-door coupe, introducing a new complete modification package for it.

Dubbed Cyrano, the kit mixes tech, exterior and interior modifications. Under the bonnet, we get a custom rear muffler and an ECU remap, which force the Panamera S to deliver an extra 80 hp and 120 Nm.

The vehicle's air suspension has been gifted with a lowering module that brings ...[...]
