There seems to be a war going on between Porsche and its tuners on the 911 topic: as Porsche introduces a new development based on the new 991 generation of the rear-engined coupe, aftermarket developers fight back with tuning kits for the former 997 generation of the car.

The last example is this: the automotive producer gave us the 991 911 Cabrio earlier this week and now German tuner Cars & Art offers us the Pretty Boy pack for the 997 911 Carrera 4S.

The vehicle is wrapped in matter fo... [...]
