The Range Rover 5.0i V8 Supercharged is a multi-purpose machine, a weapon of deceit. While it may pass as you average SUV, this beast is capable of outperforming sportscars on the road and crossovers off it. German tuner Hamann knows this and has decided to sacrifice the vehicle's off-road performance in favor of upgrading its tarmac abilities.

The 5.0-liter supercharged V8 has received an ECU remap and a sport exhaust that bring a minor output bump, from 510 hp and 625 Nm (461 lb-ft) to 530 ... [...]
