

Dodge Viper GTS-R Racer Becomes Street-Legal Project [Photo Gallery]

29/11/2011 19:02 by admin

Chrysler is currently working on a new generation of the Viper, but the supercar isn't expected to arrive until next year and it seems that all this waiting can push people to do extreme things.

Let's take the vehicle from the adjacent images, for example: why wait for a new Viper, when you can create your own, converting a racing model into a street-legal one.

The project has been handled by Heurich Classics, a German company that deals with old school rides, which received a truly specia... [...]

Source: autoevolution