Have you ever heard of somebody so obsessed with BMW's M cars that he just had to own every one of them. Such a dedicated man would surely be worthy of enjoying all of the Bavarians future creations, but it wasn't so.

According to Bimmerpost, American tuner IND brings us a very interesting story of a man and his Valencia Orange 1M, which he got directly from BMW North America after they saw just how passionate he was. After getting the sports coupe, it was sent directly to the tuner, who only... [...]
