

Cadillac CTS-V Santa Claus Drifting Video

12/12/2011 13:28 by admin

Santa Claus is preparing for this year's job and, as usual, there are many who are trying to help him by providing various means of transportation that would cater to his transportation needs better than his sled.

The latest proposal comes from US tuning company Bullet Motorsports. They offered Santa a Cadillac CTS-V with a custom Rudolph theme. He might be old, but, as you can see in the adjacent video, he really knows his way around a rear-wheel-drive car.

If you've ever wanted to see Sa... [...]
