Clarsson knows their way around any Mercedes SUV, and for that matter any model made by the German automaker, and now they want to show the world what they can do with the new ML in its 350 Bluetec diesel-powered configuration.

Changes to the look of the posh SUV include a new set of 22-inch rims, chrome bumpers front and back plus a new stainless-steel exhaust system. The already luxurious interior of the ML has been enhanced with Alcantara trim, aluminum pedals and Carlsson doorsills.[...]
