

2012 Bentley Continental GT BR-10 by Vorsteiner Teased

22/12/2011 13:16 by admin

With a facelift on the market and the launch of a brand new powertrain, a twin-tubo V8 developed with Audi, Bentley is in the news right now, and probably a lot of footballers and gangsta' rappers are looking to buy one of the luxury coupes. So it's the perfect time to introduce a customization program for the car.

This one comes from American tuners Vorsteiner, who have worked on anything from the the BMG M3 GTS to the Porsche Cayenne. The project that is being teased is called the BR-10 and... [...]

Source: autoevolution